Course Description:

Ya'teyehehtiya'ks "Crossing the Field"

Your introduction to Iroquoian culture and tradition through the medium of the Mohawk language began when you first arrived at the “edge of the woods”, and now having acquired the consent of the village you are going on toward the village carrying along with you what you have learned of Kanyen'keha (the Mohawk way) and the Kanyen'kehàka (the Mohawk Nation), you will now be Ya'teyehehtiya'ks "Crossing the Fields", the next step in your continued introduction and acquisition of the Mohawk language, culture and tradition. As you move along the path on your way to the village you will see the various food plants utilized by the Kanyen'kehaka, and the activities they engage in to produce the foods that have been their life support for centuries. You will experience the various food gathering activities such as gathering maple syrup, gathering berries and roots, various edible wild plants, and plants used for medicines. You will learn of the seasons and the importance of the phases of the moon in planning the year's activities. You will learn of the relationship which the people have with the foods they grow and gather, and you will acquire the ability to talk about and describe the various agricultural activities and events regarding the planting, caring for, and harvesting of crops, gathering edible plants, nuts and berries. As well you will become acquainted with the seasonal hunting and fishing activities and learn an appreciation for the Mohawk perception of the world in which they live and their relationship to the land.

This course will be of primary interest to students who have successfully completed the Introductory Mohawk language Course: Tsi Karhakta "At the Edge of the Woods".

* Please note that for the 2021- 2022 academic year, this course will be taught using a “blended” method. This means there will both in-class lectures and lectures via Zoom each week of the course . With this particular 3 hour class, students will attend two (2) hours of in-class instruction and one (1) hours of course material instruction via Zoom. Students are encouraged to virtually attend the one hour Zoom class during the regularly scheduled time each week as there will be important language material presented during that time. Lectures for the one hour class will be recorded and posted to the course OWL website soon after the scheduled class finishes. Students who miss any class, in-class or online, accept full responsibility for working independently to prepare for the following week. It is the student's responsibility to make sure they have the technology and bandwidth to successfully complete the course.

Learning Outcomes:

Students who successfully complete the course:

- * will be well acquainted with the agricultural, fishing and hunting practices and become capable in describing and talking about these cultural activities in the Mohawk language.

Important Policies

Policy on Laptops and other Electronic/Phones in Class: (“clickers”, if used)

Laptops are permitted in class but if it is observed that students are on social networking sites such as Facebook or Twitter, they will be told to close the lid and they will not be permitted to use it for the remainder of the class. Be sure that all cell phones are turned off at the beginning of class.

Policies for Assignment Deadlines

All projects and take-home tests assigned are to be submitted electronically to the instructor and are due at the start of class on the assigned date. A 5% deduction per day will apply to late papers, including papers submitted after class has started. Please see the Instructor in advance of the due date, if an extension is required. Further information on “Academic Consideration for Missed Work” is below.

Project objectives and rubrics, as well as assigned tests will be posted on OWL, as well as discussed in during in-class sessions and via online (Zoom) sessions. Should you have a concern regarding the grade you received for a tests or project, you must wait 24 hours from the receipt of the grade (on OWL) to contact the instructor. In doing so, please make an appointment and prepare in writing, with evidence, why you feel your grade is inappropriate. Please be aware that in requesting a grade reassessment, your grade could go up/down/or stay the same. Note that calculations errors (which do occur!) should be brought to my attention immediately.

Academic Consideration for Missed Work

Students who experience an extenuating circumstance (illness, injury, or other extenuating circumstance) sufficiently significant to temporarily render them unable to meet academic requirements must submit a request for academic consideration through the appropriate route:

- (i) For absences 48 hours or less, students can complete a Self-Reported Absence \(SRA\) form provided the conditions specified in the Senate policy are met. The form can be completed online. The SRA can be used only twice. Please note the important exceptions to this rule:
 - i. Not permitted for final exams or assessments worth more than 30% of a course.
- (ii) Students whose absences are expected to last longer than 48 hours, or where the other conditions detailed in the policy are not met (e.g., work is worth more than 30% of a course, the student has already used 2 SRAs, the absence is during the final exam period), may receive academic consideration by submitting a Student Medical Certificate (for illness) or other appropriate documentation (for compassionate grounds). Students are encouraged to contact their Academic Counselling unit to clarify what documentation is appropriate.

- (iii) All of the Faculty of Social Science Academic Counselling procedures can be found here: <https://counselling.ssc.uwo.ca/procedures/index.html>

Students seeking academic consideration:

- Are advised to consider carefully the implications of postponing tests or midterm exams or delaying handing in work.
- Are encouraged to make appropriate decisions based on their specific circumstances, recognizing that minor ailments (upset stomach) or upsets (argument with a friend) are not normally an appropriate basis for a self-reported absence.
- All students pursuing academic consideration, regardless of type, must contact their instructors no less than 24 hours following the end of the period of absence to clarify how they will be expected to fulfill the academic responsibilities missed during their absence.

Academic consideration is not normally intended for the following circumstances:

- Students with an ongoing physical illness or mental disorder (recurring or chronic) or an existing disability are responsible for determining, in consultation with their doctors or other health professionals, if they are capable of pursuing their studies and, if so, with what accommodations. Students are expected to seek and arrange reasonable accommodations with Student Accessibility Services (SAS) as soon as possible in accordance with the Policy on Academic Accommodation for Students with Disability. Students with pre-existing accessibility plans arranged through SAS may not need to provide additional documentation when seeking academic consideration where such request for consideration relates to their disability and where their accessibility plans allow for coursework deferral or deadline extensions.
- Students who experience high levels of stress related to academic performance (including completing assignments, taking part in presentations, or writing tests or examinations). Students with academic or exam stress should access supports through Student Health and Wellness and Learning Development & Success in order to deal with this stress in a proactive and constructive manner.

Scholastic Offences

Scholastic offences (including plagiarism) are taken seriously and students are directed to read the appropriate policy, specifically, the definition of what constitutes a Scholastic Offence, at the following web site:

www.uwo.ca/univsec/pdf/academic_policies/appeals/scholastic_discipline_undergrad.pdf

Policies on Examinations

No electronic devices of any kind or written aids are allowed during tests and examinations unless the Professor has indicated that such can be allowed.

Accessibility Options

Please contact the course instructor if you require material in an alternate format or if you require any other arrangements to make this course more accessible to you.
