

INDIGENOUS STUDIES 3001G

Warriors, Veterans, and Peacekeepers

Description: Taking its title from an exhibit at the Woodland Cultural Centre in Brantford, ON, in August 2014, this course examines the evolution and participation of Indigenous people in pre-contact and modern state militaries, and explores such issues as: how colonial governments recruited Indigenous soldiers, why Indigenous people chose to participate in state-led conflicts, and the impacts of their involvement on Indigenous soldiers and communities. Course runs winter term, Fridays 10:30am-1:30pm, SSC 3108 with Dr. Evan Habkirk.
